

Words Show Parts of Us

Read · Plan · Introduce · Write

TODAY I CAN introduce a real or imagined person using four connected English sentences.

The hidden card says YOU.

The card is a mirror. Nia sees a person, not a place.
A name, interest, memory or feeling can show one part of a person.

Nia says, “My name is Nia. I like stories. I use English with friends. Curious is an important word for me.”

Pip remembers that words cannot show everything about a person, but they can help us introduce ourselves.

NAME

Choose one detail to share.

INTEREST

Choose one detail to share.

MEMORY

Choose one detail to share.

FEELING

Choose one detail to share.

COMMUNITY

Choose one detail to share.

NOTICE · JÄMFÖR Plan details in Swedish or English. Then check the English pronoun and sentence order.

A Person in Four Sentences

Introduce yourself or an imagined person with a clear beginning and connected details.

SAY IT

Introduce the person to a partner first.

SHOW IT

Draw the person and add three clues.

WRITE IT

Use the clues to write four sentences.

PLAN OR DRAW · PLANERA ELLER RITA

Draw the person and add three detail clues.

KEY WORDS · NYCKELORD

name · interest · English moment · important word

BUILD THE PARAGRAPH · BYGG TEXTEN

Begin:

This is Nia. She likes stories.

Connect:

_____ uses English when _____.

Explain:

One important word is _____ because
_____.

MY CONNECTED WRITING

Write four connected sentences. Include a name, interest, English moment and important word.

TELL PIP

"This is _____. They like _____. They use English when
_____."

LANGUAGE BRIDGE · SPRÅKBRYGGA

Planera detaljerna på svenska. Välj sedan engelska ord och kontrollera pronomen och ordföljd.

Read. Rehearse aloud. Plan in Swedish or English. Then write connected English sentences.